New York Stock Market

New York, October 27 .- The resump tion i prices of stocks to-day was credited to the same speculative forces that were active in its inception. The prestige of this supposed leadership had an imposing effect on the rank and file of professional traders on the stocks, and they were inclined to follow the movement. Their operations centred in United States Steel, Union Pacific and Reading, with a notable supplement in American Smelling. There were some striking price movements in other stocks, but they were on a volume of dealings that was not important. United States Steel made a new high level for _ movement at $0, but the staggering burden of realizing sales at that price caused a reaction, which made the closing irregular. The more cheefful speculative sentiment had its incentive in the retuing of the staggering burden of realizing sales at that price caused a reaction, which made the closing irregular. New York, October II. Practically all of yesterday's big loss was recovered in the cotton market to-day as a result of covering and a renewal of bull support, following predictions for cold weather in the beit to-night, and the close was steady at a net gain of 25g31 points. The market opened steady at unchanged price to an advance of 15 points, and quickly sold up to a net gain of about 14g21 points addyance by yesterday's sellers and a little fresh buying, inspired by somewhat better cables than looked for and the weather map suggesting a decided drop in temperatures. There was was heavy realizing by people who had carried cotton over yesterday's break, and this caused some irregularity during the early trading, but following the official forecasts, which confirmed the private predictions of heavy frosts or freezing temperatures in the Western belt and generally colder weather South, the market again advanced on a big demand, but soon sent prices up to a net gain of about 30632 points. Around 1 o'clock heavy realizing sales were encountered, but they were absorbed on a reaction of 7 or 8 points from the best, and the market, later firmed up again, reaching the highest prices of the day, or a net advance of about 30632 points he had a carrier season bull leaders were reentering the market on an important scale. The close was only 3 or 4 points off from the top on active positions. Very little was heard during the day of the freer Southern spot offerings reported yesterday, and the market seemed to be dominated by an idea that either the recent census report reflected a very short crop, or, if the relatively small figures were due to a late season, the plant was in a position to suffer material damage should the predicted cold wave material damage abould the predicted cold wave material damage abould the predicted cold wave material figures were due to a late season, the plant was in a position to suffer material damage abould the predicted cold wave materiality. New Orleans, La., October 7.—Cotton—Spot cottom steady and unchanged; sales on the spot cottom steady and unchanged; sales on the spot seed and 770 to arrive. Futures opened steady at an advance of 1401s points on signs of colder weather for the cottom belt on the weather map. The posting of the weather in Oklahoma and portions of Arrive stansas, and frost in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, checked the downward movement sharply and caused buying on a larger scale than before. It was said that one of the most prominent traders of former years in this market, who of late had not been in the market, had taken a position on the bull side. Gossip concerning this brought in considerable outside buying. The market was very steady from the middle of the morning on, and at noon was 276 to points over yesterday's close. Futures closed very steady at a net advance of 246 points. Closing bids: October, 14.22; November, 14.25; December, 14.25; January, 14.37; March, 11.30; May, 14.00; July, 14.63.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Ill., October 27.—Sharp fighting in the wheat pit to-day ended in a drawn hattle. Closing prices were ic. higher to lic. lower than twenty-four hours previous. News of the shutting down of flour mills made the final tone a bit weak. In corn there was a net decline of $7 to 14.2% of. Latest figures for hog products were lic. less costly to a shade dearer.

The Service of a Trust Company

"Following closely upon the administration of the estate of the late Chief Justice Fuller by The Merchants Loan and Trust Company, as one of the executors and trustees under the will, comes the probating of the estate of the late Lambert Tree, another eminent jurist, the petition in this case being presented to the probate court on Wednesday by The Merchants Loan and Trust Company, as executor and trustee of the estate. These two instances of the corporate handling of estates are notable ones for the reason that both gentlemen were eminent in the profession of law—one having occupied the highest place in the world's greatest tribunal, and the other having distinction throughout both continents as a lawyer, a judge and a diplomat, and both having chosen the same institution to administer their affairs. And there is even more than this prominence to be given the circumstances. When men so schooled in legal requirements and legal responsibilities, to say nothing of legal possibilities, turn to the modern trust company and use its machinery as a safeguard for the proper handling of their estates after death, the system is given the strongest possible endorsement. The estate of Justice Fuller was valued at nearly one million dollars, while that of Judge Tree is more than four and a half million dollars."

The above editorial clipping from the Economist was handed to us by one of our thoughtful citizens with the suggestion that we make it the basis of an advertisement. We adopt the suggestion because it emphasizes our proposition, to-wit: That a strong institution like the VIRGINIA TRUST COMPANY is better qualified to act as Executor and Trustee than an individual. The reasons are many, and we invite the opportunity of pointing out these advantages to any prudent man or woman interested in the matter.

Booklet on trusts sent free. In it are given some valuable information about the drawing of a Will.
